

Exploring

A Program for Career Education

Explorer Post 1275 Wants You!

What is Exploring? As Explorers, young men and women age 14–21 get a chance to meet new people and discover more about today's world.

Okay, so what's Explorer Post 1275? Well, Post 1275 is a science and engineering-oriented club based at the NASA Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Maryland. With the resources available at NASA, you can examine the worlds of astronomy, robotics, computers, electronics, automobiles, etc. We also take part in other events, such as trips, parties, and multi-post activities. What doesn't Explorer Post 1275 do? Anything boring. The program is set up and run by the Explorers to match their interests. A small $15 yearly fee is charged for membership.

Please come to our Open House on Wednesday, October 16, 2002 at 7:30 p.m. and find out what we are all about. We will be waiting for you at the Visitor's Center on the Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Maryland. Your friends and parents are also welcome to attend.

For security reasons you must be a United States citizen to join the post and gain access to the center. If you have any questions, please contact John Wolfgang at 301-286-6610.
